Partnering to advance oncology care in Georgia

January 1 through December 31, 2027

An invitation to partner

The Georgia Society of Clinical Oncology invites organizations to support education, collaboration, advocacy, and communication across Georgia's cancer care community. Our statewide network connects oncology professionals in academic institutions, health systems, and community practices, including physicians, advanced practice providers, pharmacists, nurses, administrators, and patient navigators.

Choose an annual Corporate Partnership level or participate as an Exhibitor at an individual meeting. The following pages summarize opportunities, investment, and the steps to commit.
